THE STEAM ROLLER METHOD
IN THE CITY COUNCIL.

The introduction of the steam roller method in the city council will bring citizens who desire good government up with a start to a realization of just what is going on in Edmonton municipal affairs.

The circumstances are simple and easily understood. The mayor, for reasons which have already been made plain, desires the auditor's dismissal. To give his majority in the council something upon which to proceed he brings in a recommendation that whereas the auditor has failed to carry out certain duties, principle among which alleged derelictions was a supposed failure to detect the shortage in the telephone department, he should be summarily dismissed. The mayor supplements this written allegation with a verbal one to the effect that the auditor failed to discover a defalcation which had been going on in the building inspector's office for some time.

The auditor replies to this allegation with a report in which he quotes from the files to show that the mayor's statement was not according to the facts, and he definitely charges the mayor with a deliberate untruth. This he follows with another report to show that the mayor's personal appointee, Buck, also made statements in the matter of the car barn investigation which were not in accordance with the truth.

This report is made to the council, which body, according to the city's scheme of government, is the body which employs the auditor, and the only body having authority over the auditor.

When the council meets this morning the communication is not submitted, and when an alderman asks why, a member of the council ring declares that the report belongs not to the council who employ the auditor and to whom it was made, but to the council committee which is investigating other affairs altogether. By the weight of their majority, the ring votes down a motion to have the report submitted.

This is the steam roller in its most pronounced form. Allowed to go on, the city no longer has council rule or constitutional government, but ring rule.

GREATER, GRANDER, MORE MAGNIFICENT THAN BEFORE.

With good weather for this week, the Edmonton exhibition should make an entirely new series of records both for attendance and for attractions offered. The Edmonton Industrial Exhibition is now no longer an experiment. It is an institution. In the language of the circus man, it opens this afternoon greater, grander, more stupendous and more magnificent than ever before. Edmontonians will attend because it is an Edmonton institution which merits their attention, and others will attend because it is worth attending. Very few people will miss the fair this year. The few who do will be losers to the extent that their appreciation of the agricultural development of Alberta will be a year behind the times.

WHY NOT GIVE THE LADY
THE VOTE AND STOP THE SCENE?

Continued reports of riots and raids by suffragettes indicate that the cat and mouse act which was to have made all the lovely ladies militant is not proving the perfect panacea it was assumed to have proven when first applied. The case of Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst indicates that some of them, at least, are willing to die for what they consider in the interest of the cause. In fact, it seems that that is just what they want to do.

From this distance it looks as though there must be a most unwarranted stubbornness over the question of woman suffrage in Great Britain. If the suffragette riots mean anything, they mean that the women want the vote. As women are almost invariably more discriminating voters than men, as they usually vote more on conscience than upon political considerations, and as the female vote is the certain lever for the enforcement of social betterment legislation, it looks as though Great Britain would be much better off by allowing the women to vote. California, in the first year the women have had the vote, passed more reform legislation than in the past three decades, and every law passed is inspired by the fear that if not passed the women will vote the legislators out of office. The government in Great Britain is not a reactionary government, but a reform government, staking its life upon the public's appreciation of its laws for the extension of social justice. Such a government could not lose anything by allowing the women to vote.

Then for the love of goodness, why does not Mr. Asquith give the lady the vote and stop the scene?

VERY THOUGHTLESS OF THIS PROWLER

Just at the time when the Bulletin was working so hard to save its readers with the soothing information that all the yeggs, porch climbers, second storey workers, dips, con men, carkers, shillers, snow birds, cappers, toots and second-dealers had been banished from the city by one blast of its 48 point gonic, and that anything they had said about the notice was taken back, some enterprising prowler wades into a rooming house on Eighth street and carries the lodgers' gents' furnishings out into the back yard to make the frisk.

This prowler, if he is caught, will receive a severe slap on the wrist. Like the undisciplined reporter of the Bulletin, he is not playing the game.

The very idea of doing a thing like that just when everything was being smoothed over so nicely; and right in the heart of the city, too. It was very thoughtless, indeed, not to say ungrateful.

If this thing is to be kept up some people will commence to believe that the Bulletin, in a thoughtless moment, told the truth about the police.

LET THE EMERGENCY REST WHILE THE PUBLIC FORGETS THE BONUSES

Cabinet ministers at Ottawa have announced programmes of travel which will keep them busy until late in the autumn and the indications are that there will be no session before January.

According to this, Mr. Borden's emergency has completely disappeared. He does not consider it necessary to hold a session in order to pass redistribution, or to go to the country without rest.

Considering all the circumstances, Mr. Borden's alleged emergency fizzles out into a gigantic bluff. Possibly if it had not become necessary for him to come to the assistance of MacKenzie and Mann and the G. T. P. with gigantic bonuses, an action which made an immediate election unpopular, Borden might have gone to the country. But having found it necessary to pass the bonuses in the face of public opinion, the emergency can rest a while in the hope that the public will forget the bonuses.

THE COST OF WAR IN LIVES AND MONEY

When the glamor, glitter and pomp of war are set aside and the cold, unchangeable figures are submitted for contemplation, the monstrousness of the horrors of it becomes apparent. The Balkan war has cost the allies over a billion dollars and well on to a half a million lives since they first attacked the Turks. The estimated figures are:

	Soldiers Killed	Money Spent
1st War 2nd War	1st War	2nd War
Bulgaria	$2,000,000	$300,000,000	$120,000,000
Serbia	30,000	40,000	160,000,000
Greece	10,000	30,000	70,000,000
Montenegro	8,000	20,000	40,000,000
Turkey	100,000	400,000,000
Totals	228,000	180,000,000	$900,400,000
Grand Totals	358,000	$1,230,400,000

In the face of such figures it is difficult to restrain one's impotence over the rantings of such whirling dervishes as Sam Hughes, who would divert the attention of a heretofore peaceful nation to the arts of war, or of Baden Powell who has consecrated his life to teaching the infants how to bear arms.

JUST PARAGRAPHS.

Possibly the mayor is getting Randall to write the Rabbit Hills report for him, seeing that nobody else will.

The first thing that makes the new Klondike gold strike look real is that the mounted police are going there.

They must have some pretty fair fiction writers over on the Coast. Someone has started the story that Dick McBride is going to resign.

Just as they have reached a treaty of Peace in the Balkans, war breaks out between the Bulletin and the Journal over the police question.

One thing about the iron bookies; they can't make you with any consideration over your hard luck when the good things go wrong.

The California legislature having passed the anti-Orange land bill, and having put it into force, the people of that state will now have the delectation of watching to see if the court can set it aside.

TODAY IN DOMINION HISTORY.

This date forty years ago, August 12, 1873, was an important day in Canadian history. The Canadian Pacific railway charges against the Macdonald ministry were then the focus, and the divided new Dominion into hostile partisan camps. Earlier in the year the allegation had been made in the house of commons that the government had connived with foreigners in connection with the Canadian railway and in order to obtain funds "to the cost of the constitution" in the election of 1872, Parliament appointed a select committee, composed of three conservatives and two liberals, to carry on an inquiry, and adjourned to August 18th. On that date Parliament was prorogued by the governor-general, Lord Dufferin, and on the same day a royal commission was appointed to take the place of the select committee. The commission was composed of the Robert Gowan, and the Hon. Charles Robert Power, and the Hon. Charles Dwyer Day, all prominent judges. A little over two months later they reported to the governor-general, who called parliament, to consider the evidence taken under oath by the commission. A resolution of "revere censure" was moved by Mr. Mackenzie, leader of the liberal opposition, and a heated acrimonious debate followed. Sir John Macdonald's speech of defence, while a mastery one, did not meet the situation, and he resigned to prevent the passage of the vote of censure.

Goldwin Smith, educator, essayist and historian, was born in Reading, Berkshire, ninety years ago today. His long connection with Canadian affairs began in 1871, when he was appointed a member of the senate of the University of Toronto, and continued until his death in 1910.

Dr. Herbert Burns, Methodist Canadian theologian and churchman, was born in New York 24 years ago today. He was educated at the University of Toronto, where he graduated from King's college, London, in 1899, and from Oxford in 1901. He was appointed Bishop of Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island in 1904, being the first in his denomination to hold the office in his own country. His reputation as a theologian extended far beyond the confines of his diocese, and he addressed many important religious gatherings in England and the United States, as well as in Canada. He died in Nova Scotia in 1907.

Mr. Alexander Burns, Methodist clergyman, was born in Scotland in 1817. He was a famous heretic trial. He was educated in Scotland and in 1840 he came to Canada in his youth, graduated from the University of Toronto, and for a decade was president of Wesleyan Ladies' college in Hamilton. He was elected Moderator of the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church in 1882. He died in Toronto in 1900.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY

CHAREVITZ, 9 YEARS OLD TODAY, IS A CHILD OF MISFORTUNE

The tragedy that has dogged the Charevitzs ever since they won the Russian throne three centuries ago seems to have claimed for its special victim the little Charevitz, Grand Duke Alexis Nicolaevitch, whose birth nine years ago today, August 12, 1904, caused so much rejoicing throughout the empire of the Great White Bear. There is an unwritten law that no cripple or deformed person may rule Russia, and the Charevitzs are now declared to be an incurable cripple. The wonder is that he is alive, for since his last birthday dispatches from St. Petersburg have reported that the heir to the imperial throne has suffered the following misfortunes:

Attacked by influenza on the imperial yacht Standart—some reports alleged that he was shot, and others that he has been strangled with a knife—contracted tuberculosis of the hip joint, also a disease of the kidneys, and an incurable affection of the skin. Whatever the cause of his condition it is now generally admitted that the Charevitz is unlikely ever to become the autocrat of all the Russias.

Roland Burnham Molleux, chemist and author, one of the few who have entered the death house of Sing Sing, has come out alive, was born in Brooklyn 47 years ago today. He was accused of having sent a bottle of headache medicine containing a deadly poison to Harry Cornish, and that the latter's landlady, Mrs. Adams, took it instead. After a sensational trial Molleux was convicted and was sent to the death house to await his execution. He was released on bail, and another trial, and was acquitted, but not until his father, Gen. Edward Le-Molleux, had spent a fortune in his defence. In "The Room With the Little Door," published 10 years ago, Molleux gave a dramatic account of the agonizing sessions of four terrible years, during which many of his comrades in the death house passed through the "little green door" that leads to the electric chair and the grave. Molleux has since written several other books, and has lately completed a play that will be produced at an early date.

Earl Russell, the socialist member of the British House of Lords, passes his forty-ninth birthday today. He is an ascetic as well as a disciple of Marx. His brother, who is his representative to the earl, the Hon. Herbert Arthur William Russell, is a member of the faculty of Trinity College, Cambridge University, and will soon come to America to accept the chair of philosophy at Harvard. Prof. Russell has an American wife, who was Miss Alys Smith of Philadelphia. The earl succeeded his grandfather, the democratic Lord John Russell, in 1878. He is a barrister and an electrical engineer, and an author of no small ability. The earl divorced his first wife, acquiring the ducal title at Reno, Nev., and on his return to England the former Countess Russell had him arrested for bigamy, but he was soon released. While the owner of a considerable estate in Ireland, the earl is an advocate of the nationalization of land as the first step towards socialism. He is a keen debater, and often aims his shafts of satire at his fellow nobles, which does not add to his popularity. Indeed, he is considered the black sheep of the House of Peers.

SPORTOGRAPHY.

TOUGH LUCK, OLD TOP! ROUSE MAY BE SHORT THIS YEAR.

This is the day when every who has not already left London—except a few millionaires who are destined by means of poverty, or some such trifles, to be everywhere that it anybody likes for the Scotch moor, there to begin the usual slaughter of the season. The opening of the grouse season is a great attraction for the big day of the year for English sportsmen and the many wealthy Americans who go to Scotland for the shooting.

A grouse, it may be explained, is the benefit of the moment, is a millionaire bird of the sublimity of the moment, and is a cousin of the American partridge, pheasant and prairie hen. Personally, I would not shoot a grouse. No grouse has ever done anything to me. Considered as a sport, it has always seemed to me that a great man armed with a gun and with a large bag of money, and with a great deal of time, is not a fair match for a grouse. Still, that is a matter of taste. According to reports from the sportsmen, the grouse crop this year does not seem promise well. The weather has been in a backward state, and scarcity of food and unfavorable weather are said to have worked havoc among the birds.

The shooting season gets into full swing by the middle of September and continues until Christmas, so there is plenty of time for local sportsmen who want to get into and take a crack at the game. The most important thing for those contemplating such a trip is to provide the proper clothes. No grouse wants to be seen in a man who isn't properly dressed for the occasion. Upon arriving you go to an inn, who has shooting boxes to let. These lodges are owned by important noblemen, and are usually about half full of men from 100 to 1,000 rooms. As the shooting does not promise well, year there will probably be no great rush, and prices for lodges should be correspondingly reasonable. One should be able to get a nice little lodge for a couple of months at a rental not to exceed $1,000. If an agent attempts to charge more than that he will be trying to take advantage of you because you are from America and inordinately wealthy. Again his proposition will seem reasonable. But you are not a sportsman. You are just a tourist. I suspected all along that you were just a common person and didn't belong in sports.

THE GAY WORLD

BARNETT-BENNETT.

A very jolly house wedding was celebrated at the home of Mrs. and Mr. R. A. Bennett of Lament, on Saturday the 9th instant, when their daughter Myrtle Taylor was united in marriage to Mr. Stuart Barnett of the Canadian Northern railway company of this city. The bride was charmingly gowned in embroidered tulle over ivory duchess satin and carried a bouquet of white roses and maiden hair fern. The bridesmaid, Miss Marion Bennett, who wore a dainty frock of pale blue silk mill carried a bouquet of pink carnations. The groom was supported by Dr. J. E. Carmichael of this city. The groom's gift to the bride was a silver wash basin, to the bridesmaid a pearl brooch and to the groomsmen a pearl and amethyst pin.

A host of beautiful gifts attested the popularity of the bride, and the esteem in which the groom is held by his associates in the Canadian Northern offices was shown by the presentation of a silver tea service of unique design. While the happy couple were awaiting the train which was to bring them to Edmonton, the Lament Citizens band joined the merry throng of well-wishers and culminated the scene with popular airs. The bride travelled in a tailored suit of navy serge with tulle hat trimmed with velvet and roses. Mrs. and Mr. Barnett will reside in Edmonton.

Miss Nora Eyre and Miss Evelyn Walker have returned from a delightful visit in Banff. Miss Eyre is going out to Wabanan Lake to spend the remainder of her holidays.

Mrs. Bishop is entertaining very informally on Wednesday at the tea hour for Mrs. Haycock of Ottawa, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Davies, and who is returning east the same evening.

POPULAR PRINCESS AGAIN REPORTED ENGAGED

Princess Patricia of Connaught and the Grand Duke of Mecklenburg-Strelitz, the latter as he appeared at a recent fancy dress ball in the character of Louis XIV.

London, Aug. 12.—Over the cigarette and tea cups of the fashionable London clubs there is going the rounds a persistent rumor that the popular Princess "Pat," daughter of the Duke of Connaught, Governor-General of Canada, is to become the bride of the hereditary Duke of Mecklenburg.

The proudest little boy in Edmonton on Saturday last was Master Wilson Hook, 114 Clara street, who attained the dignity of six years. There was a big party arranged in his honor with a gorgeous pink and white birthday cake surrounded by six lighted candles, sweets than ever a child could eat. The crowning feature of the event was when Master Hook appeared in all the glory of real grown-up Norfolk suit of real watch coat, discarding "Butter Brown's" forever.

The guests were Kathleen McLeod, Lucy and Lloyd Wolf, Stanley Pettifore, Kenneth McLeod, Tudor Marks, Jean Blewitt, Donalds and Lucie Campbell.

Dr. Mason of Leithbridge is the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Goss, Westminster surgeons. Dr. Mason holds the Strellitz. The name of Princess "Pat" has often been associated with those of marked intelligence, good manners and fine looks, a combination which appeals to the charming princess. The latter is not only popular with her own courtiers but has endeared herself to the people of other countries, notably those in the United States, where on a visit with her parents a couple of years ago, she made a marked impression on the Americans who were fortunate enough to meet her.

CALGARY CAN GET INDUSTRIES WITH $250,000 PAYROLL

Every Foot of Space in Proposed Building Already Has Been Applied For

EMPLOYMENT CAN BE GIVEN TO 300 HANDS

Commissioner Returns After a Comprehensive Trip—Lesson is Seen in Action of Winnipeg.

Calgary, Aug. 12.—"Every foot of space in the proposed industrial building has been applied for by manufacturers, who, with such a building available, contemplate establishing manufacturing plants in Calgary," said Commissioner Miller, on his return from a trip east, where he visited manufacturers who have been in correspondence with the industrial bureau, with the view of establishing plants in western Canada. "The manufacturers who have asked that space be reserved for them in the proposed building, represent different lines of light manufacturing," added Mr. Miller. "Together, they could give employment to about 300 people, and their combined payroll for the first year of operation alone would be $250,000, or an amount greater than the cost of the industrial building to the city.

For Industrial Building

"If it is the intention of the city council to re-submit the industrial building bylaw to the ratepayers for approval, no time should be lost in doing so, and I seriously think when it is thoroughly understood by the voters that this is to be the best plan ever advanced for the encouragement of the small industries of today, which may be the large industries of the community tomorrow. In not a few centres a visitor can be shown large plants employing hundreds, and in some cases thousands, of men, which not so many years ago had their modest beginning in small leased premises, and were given encouragement and help by the community at a time when they required it.

Lesson from Winnipeg

"Winnipeg with the commendable energy of its industrial bureau, has launched perhaps the most ambitious industrial building scheme yet undertaken by any city in the continent. It is planned to erect industrial buildings at an estimated cost of $1,150,000. There will be 10 four-story buildings, each 100x100 feet. The erection of two buildings will start almost immediately and the other eight units will be built as required. A 99-year lease has been obtained of corner property having 1,500 feet frontage, upon which the buildings will be erected. If Winnipeg can undertake such an ambitious scheme, Calgary should also do all possible in the same direction and without delay."

DEAR ANCESTORS.

Two close-knit Missouri brothers sued a neighbor for $175 owing on a land deal. They engaged the best lawyer in their county seat.

The lawyer won the case. The brothers called to see him about his fee. One stayed outside and the other went in.

"How much is it?" he asked.

"Well," said the lawyer, "I won't be hard on you. I have known both you boys since you were children, and I know your pap. I guess $300 will be about right."

The inquiring brother went out dashed.

"Lordy, George," he said to the one outside. "I'm durn glad he didn't know grandpap too!"—Saturday Evening Post.

GOOD PUBLICITY FOR B.C. MINES

Advertising Building at Vancouver Furnishes Great Possibilities In Advertising

Grand Forks, B.C., Aug. 12.—Mining men and prospectors in the vicinity of Grand Forks and Phoenix have been impressed this season as never before with the advertising possibilities afforded at the Vancouver exhibition with its special building devoted to mines and mining. The mining camps of the boundary district were never more prosperous than today. In addition to its present properties and the smelter at Grand Forks, the Grand Forks Copper Company is now constructing another smelter at Phoenix with a daily capacity of 5,000 tons. About 1,500 men are being employed on the construction of the new smelter, and the estimated expenditure on the several properties will amount to $1,500,000 during the present season. All the leading mining companies of the district are now establishing agencies at Vancouver or other coast points.

It is also shown from the recent monthly reports that the larger output of ore at the Grand Forks and the British Columbia Copper companies continues to be regularly maintained. The monthly payroll of all the Phoenix mines aggregate about $50,000, a good percentage of these earnings going into high-grade real estate investments in and around Grand Forks.

MEDICINE HAT IS HOLDING ITS OWN

This is Shown by the Returns on the Customs Office for Last Month.

Medicine Hat, Aug. 12.—Another evidence that Medicine Hat is more than holding its own this year, as compared with last year, is shown from the collections made at the local customs house. For the month ending July 31, 1913, the cash taken in, reported by Collector Ware, amounted to $31,220. Last year in July the collections amounted to $15,107, which makes the increase for this year over last year over one hundred per cent. The July total for this year also shows an increase over the preceding months of June and May, respectively.

Reports from the local land office also show an increase of applications for land entries over last year. For July this year the total was 239, including 150 homesteads, 74 pre-emptions and seven purchased homesteads.

AGAINST FRENCH TONGUE SPECIALLY RECOGNIZED

Gleagyn Denounces Armand Lavergne as an "Unscrupulous Political Agitator."

Ottawa, Aug. 12.—Armand Lavergne, nationalist, M.L.A., for Montmagny, Que., was characterized as an "unscrupulous political agitator" by the Rev. J. W. S. Lavery, of Fitzroy Harbor, in a sermon to a congregation of Orangemen in Westminister Presbyterian church yesterday afternoon.

The preacher referred to Mr. Lavergne's recent visit to Ottawa when the latter addressed an audience in the arena and said:

"I enter my solemn protest against the invasion of this province by so unscrupulous a political agitator as Armand Lavergne demanding special privileges in regard to schools and businesses. Why should the French language be specially recognized in Ontario? Why not the Gaelic when the Highlanders and Irishmen are much more numerous in this province than the French Canadians? Besides that, the Celtic tongue is much more ancient, more outlandish, and more glorious than that of the French Canadian."

Mr. Lavery exhorted the Orangemen to be on their guard against the man on parliament hill who was professional politician first and Protestant and Orangeman last.

KNOW WHERE CASTRO IS.
Winnipeg, Man., Aug. 12.—The police report seemed yesterday evening a shot from Cairo belonging to the Venezuelan revolutionist because of lack of sailing papers. Then on board the ship, a former president Castro, leader of the rebels in Venezuela, was not out of control, but that positive information would be given by them for $2,000.

HER BABY WAS BOTHERED WITH DIARRHOEA FROM THE TIME SHE WAS BORN DR. FOWLER'S EXTRACT OF WILD STRAWBERRY CURED HER

Mrs. Thomas Skaling, Schreiber Ont., writes: "My little girl, who is now nearly four years old, and is so healthy and strong as can be, was bothered with Diarrhoea from the time she was born until she was over two years old. The doctor in the hospital, where I was when she was born, did everything he could but did not get it stopped. Just as soon as I got out myself, I got a bottle of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, and gave it to her, off and on, whenever she needed it, and I never had a doctor in the house once, for it would always check it without any further effect, and in time came her recovery. I always keep it in the house, as I have never found anything to compete with it for Diarrhoea."

When you ask for "Dr. Fowler's" be sure you get it, as some of these no-name, no-reputation, so-called strawberry preparations are being sold on the reputation built up by "Dr. Fowler's." To insure getting the genuine, see that the name of The T. Millburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont., appears on the yellow wrapper. Price, 35 cents.

BUILDING PERMITS AT THE MILL CAMP

permits for the city of Medicine Hat for the month of July show an increase of more than 25 per cent. over the corresponding month for last year, the figures being $840,720 for July, 1913, as compared with $662,630 for July, 1912. For the seven months ending July 31st, the total of the building permits issued amounted to $2,307,300, while for the first seven months of last year, they were $1,663,204, thus being more than half a million dollars more this year than last for the seven months of the year to date.

Permits for July include a number of seven and eight thousand dollar residences, the addition to the Elm street school, the Medicine Hat Cement company, Clay Street, Wash Mill, Hux Mill and Kings of Canada Cement company, which is erecting a 4,000 barrel plant here, and several warehouses and many smaller residences.

BUSINESS LIFTS IN BRITISH COLUMBIA

Already the District is Feeling the Effects of Improved Conditions There

Kamloops is feeling the effect of the improved conditions in business and monetary circles noted in all parts of the province during the past two or three weeks. A general feeling of confidence now prevails, especially with reference to the successful financing of the fruit and grain crops throughout this section of the west. This view of the general situation is held by Industrial Agent J. F. Sweeting, of the Canadian Pacific railway's department of natural resources, who has been stopping over in Kamloops in the interests of the department. Mr. Sweeting expresses himself very freely regarding the future of Kamloops as a manufacturing and distributing centre. With excellent crop prospects and easier money in the principal financial centres, Kamloops' building record for the year should hold little, if any, below the figures of 1912, is the belief of Mr. Sweeting.

TO EXPLORE FRENCH JOSEPH LAND.
Havre, Aug. 12.—An article expedition headed by Jules Van Payer, left for the north polar region yesterday for the purpose of exploring and gathering scientific data in French Joseph Land. It is understood the expedition intend to attempt to revive the French whale and seal shipping industry in the Arctic by locating good fisheries.

FLOOD IN COLORADO.
Pueblo, Colorado, Aug. 12.—Reports of a devastating flood, which is said to have formed between Colorado Springs and Pueblo by clouds last night, caused warnings to be issued to all residents of the Pueblo river in east and south trends to move to higher ground. Word reached Pueblo from Pueblo, Colo., last night, that the water in the Tootsika river had reached far beyond the danger point.

T. E. ROBBIN RESIGNS.
Montreal, Aug. 12.—Although official confirmation is unavailable, it is understood in railway circles that T. E. Robbin, general advertising agent of the C.P.R., has tendered his resignation to be replaced and will shortly accept a position with the life insurance company. His successor is not named, but the fact that T. E. Robbin, formerly advertising agent for the C.P.R. in London, is in town and visited the C.P.R. offices today, where he was closeted with the president, would indicate that he may assume Mr. Robbin's duties.

JAPAN MAY LOSE SECRET.
London, Aug. 12.—Japan is afraid that one of her most important naval secrets will fall into the hands of a rival power through the loss of a torpedo from the new battleship Kongo, on her trial trip recently off the Irish coast. The Japanese government offers a reward of $10,000 for the recovery of the torpedo. This is five times the amount usually offered by the British government in similar circumstances. The explanation, according to the Pall Mall Gazette, is that the torpedo of the Kongo is unique in construction and that they embody important secrets of construction.

Refused Free Fuel.
Neither Harroun nor the Hendersons said much about their intention to make the trip on a tank full of petroleum and started out. At several stopping places on the trip Harroun declined to accept free fuel, tendered by reception and housing committees. He bought his fuel at the prevailing price, for he was keeping strict account of what it would cost to blaze a kerosene trail across the continent. In most places the cost of fuel was less than one-third as much as gasoline. Harroun at one time ran out of oil and was forced to buy enough kerosene of a farmer to carry him into the nearest town. The farmer's wife took out of his parlor lamp into the cow house of the Henderson car. The Hendersons are preparing a little book of the kerosene car, giving actual statistics and stories of the road.

CHURCH UNION EFFECTED.
Dryden, Ont., Aug. 12.—At a joint meeting of the Presbyterian and Methodist congregations on Sunday evening, the board of managers of the new union church will be elected next Saturday. Presbyterian services will be discontinued, and the congregation will worship in the new Methodist church. Advertisements will be inserted in the Methodist and Presbyterian organs for a union minister.

Couldn't Breathe Through His Nose Stuffed with Catarrh

Catarrhozone Inhaler The One Means of Relief, and it Cured Quickly.

The extraordinary efficacy of Catarrhozone is without a parallel. A sneezing cold is cured in ten minutes, a harsh cough is eased in an hour, the most obstinate catarrh is thoroughly drawn from the system. In case of asthma and bronchitis the relief and certain cure that comes from the healing balsamic extracts in Catarrhozone is simply wonderful.

"For more than twenty years I suffered with a cough, bronchitis, asthma, and nasal catarrh," writes J. P. Fenwick, P. O. of Stanton, N. Y. "Every attack I had seemed to grow worse and I could hardly breathe on account of an accumulation of phlegm in the nose and throat. One day I tried Catarrhozone and in ten minutes was wonderfully relieved. I could breathe freely and naturally through the nose, and blood spitting was stopped—the phlegm was cleared away and my regular breathing restored. No remedy can do more than Catarrhozone." "There is no remedy so certain and safe as Catarrhozone, but being a good remedy it is not sold. Beware of the substitute. Large Catarrhozone lasts two months, price $1.00. Smaller sizes 25c and 50c. At all drugstores and druggists, or The Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N. Y., and Kingston, Canada.

KEROSENE FOR LONG AUTO TRIP COSTS LESS

Car in Indiana to Pacific Coast
Tour Made Trip on Small Amount of Fuel

From Indianapolis to the Pacific ocean in an automobile for less than seven dollars is almost as cheap as walking. Yet that is the kerosene fuel record established by Ray Harroun in the Henderson car. As the trip of Indiana automobile makers to the coast, which has just ended in Los Angeles. There were four or five passengers in the Henderson all the way across. The total cost of kerosene from Indianapolis to Fresno was less than $26, which divided by four or five makes less than seven dollars per passenger—less than the station pays for shoes when he walks it.

Harroun's conquest of the high cost of driving will probably do much to arouse public favor in a national coast-to-coast highway as the oratory of the coast-to-coast automobilists, who accompanied the tourists.

Kerosene Carburator.
Motorists have been watching the Henderson with its kerosene carburator. They have wondered if it would work in the mountains and on the desert, and a good many have been skeptical even about its practicability on common middle states roads under common atmospheric conditions. But the kerosene Henderson led the caravan when it approached the Pacific, and each day it padded right along with the gasoline cars and sang as sweetly, and each evening it pulled into the stopping places with the rest of them. It went 3,600 miles satisfactorily, and for $26, and as a result there are now kerosene carburators throughout the country. The Henderson Motor Car company has received inquiries from hundreds of them.

This demonstration of the efficiency of coal oil will put a crimp in automobile makers' such a crimp that will the general adoption of the kerosene carburator present drivers will be able to drive more, and people who can not now afford to drive will get on the kerosene wagon—and all of them will be wanting a big national drive. That is how the Hendersons have helped the cause.

DANIEL BOONE, WHO OPENED THE GATEWAY TO THE GREAT WEST, FIRST PALEFACE ADOPTED BY INDIANS

By Frank Merriwell, Jr.

Boone Turned and Sprang at the Nearest One Like a Panther.

Heroes! Heroes! Heroes!
The early history of the United States is filled with their names and deeds. But among them all stands, clear and strong, Daniel Boone, the self-reliant, rugged backwoodsman who opened the door of the great, fertile middle west to the pioneer, empire builders of our country.

He lived and he died, calling trails for the ones who would venture into his heart of our great continent. Born in a frontier settlement, of Pennsylvania parents, this rugged, hardy backwoodsman grew up to the whispering of forest trees, the calling of birds, the stealthy step of war-painted Indians and the over-present dangers of the wilderness. He was always without fear. That is how the Hendersons have helped the cause.

The Indians, who hated and feared the white man, were the first to recognize the value of Boone's trail. He was the builder of the first great settlement there—a wilderness settlement. The Indians, seeing this place soon became the centre of some of the most savage warfare ever witnessed during the settling of the west. Probably the most interesting incident in connection with the life of this courageous "wilderness man" took place while he was struggling to help a little handful of colonists maintain foothold at this gateway to the Indian lands.

The woods teemed with Indians who were always lying in wait to scalp the settlers. The Indians, seeing this place soon became the centre of some of the most savage warfare ever witnessed during the settling of the west. Probably the most interesting incident in connection with the life of this courageous "wilderness man" took place while he was struggling to help a little handful of colonists maintain foothold at this gateway to the Indian lands.

Then they put him through all sorts of ceremonies, declaring they were washing out his white blood. Finally they proclaimed him a full-fledged Indian warrior.

All the time Boone was watching, keenly, for a chance to escape and go back to his family at Booneborough. One day he heard some of the tale planning an attack on his own people. He knew he must escape at once, that he might warn the settlers and save them, if possible.

He waited till nightfall and then sped away. The Indians were on his trail almost instantly. But he baffled them at their own game—doubling on his tracks and forcing streams—resulting the settlement in safety five days later.

Very soon afterwards came the famous battle of Blue Lick, when Daniel Boone was forced to see his own son cut down by the treacherous Indians. With a tempest of passion and grief raging in his heart and his eyes transfixed with an awful glare, Boone turned and sprang at the nearest one like a panther.

That the Edmonton Exhibition association has in the new live stock pavilion, which will be used this year for the first time, one of the finest buildings of its kind in America was the opinion expressed to a Capital representative yesterday afternoon by George Pepper, of Toronto, who is again this year one of the judges of light horses at the exhibition. Mr. Pepper arrived in the city on Sunday and is staying at the King Edward hotel.

After a trip out to the grounds yesterday afternoon Mr. Pepper stated that the entries among the horses represent a good class of animals as he has seen anywhere in the Dominion. Speaking of the exceptionally large number of cattle entries which is a feature of the exhibition, Mr. Pepper pointed out that this means a great deal for the Edmonton district, as it is one of the surest signs that the farmers of the district and cattle expositors in general are commencing to recognize the importance of mixed farming, and are taking it up rapidly.

Mr. Pepper had words of warm commendation for the work of Manager Stark in so successfully completing arrangements for a record stock show this year. "Mr. Stark is building up an exhibition here that will one day be recognized as foremost in the Dominion," he said.

Associated with Mr. Pepper in the judging of light horses will be Dr. J. M. Johnson, of Vancouver, B.C. Dr. Johnson is a horseman of wide experience on both sides of the Atlantic and in the United States as well as in Canada. The doctor spent 14 years buying up horses in the United States for shipment to Great Britain, and previous to that time he was engaged in horse trading in Ireland. His particular business being the purchase of hunters. Coming to Vancouver from some of the international boundaries, he has been for the past two years manager of the Vancouver annual horse show. He related this position recently for the purpose of devoting all his time to the riding academy, which he has established in Vancouver. Dr. Johnson expressed the opinion yesterday that the Edmonton exhibition grounds are easily the best laid out of any he has visited in his entire experience.

Mr. Jas. Fletcher, of Elgin, Ill., whose services have been secured as judge of Percherons, Belgians, and Suffolk horses, is visiting Edmonton during the exhibition for the first time, and he stated yesterday that he was greatly surprised at the development that is now under way in this section of the North American continent. "I always held the belief," he said, "that Edmonton was one of the Hudson Bay company's posts that was nearer near the North pole, but they tell me that wheat has been grown successfully 600 miles north of here. I am indeed surprised at the development I see on every hand, and the location of Edmonton at the edge of the Peace River country, and the railway construction now under way to the west and north of the city, gives every indication that this will one day be one of the most important centres of the Dominion."

Judges for all classes of exhibits arrived in the city yesterday, and will be on duty at the grounds this afternoon at 2 p.m. The judging of all classes commencing directly after the formal opening, it has been decided that H. A. Gray, of the city, will take charge of agriculture, while take charge of the judging of the Potted Angus cattle. The names of all the exhibitors of live stock judges were published in yesterday's Capital.

There is every indication of all previous records being broken in the number of exhibits entered this year in the various classes. Among the exhibitors, a record that was

FORTY THOUSAND VISIT STAMPEDE

Great Crowd Witnesses Remarkable Escape of Blanche McCaughy From Death.

Winipeg, Aug. 12.—Forty thousand people filled the monster bleachers at the Stampede, making the largest bonanza crowd ever seen seated in Western Canada. The most exciting event of the day, the wild horse race, was won by Dick Macey of Wood Mountain, Sask., and the second place went to Red Parker of High River, Alta. Both men save fine exhibitions and were winners in the field of 15 Stoney Whitney, of Lethbridge, came in third, thus giving all the honors of the star event to Western Canada. Joe MacFarland, of Maple Creek, Alta., was fifth.

The best bucking of the day was seen in this race.

W. C. Bickie was the only man to keep his seat in the bareback bucking contest, all the others being unseated either in the game. Blanche McCaughy had a miraculous escape while riding Snake. Her horse turned completely over on its side, rearing his foot and Blanche was still in the saddle and had not even lost her stirrups. She was tremendously applauded.

Three steers were killed in the roping contest. Lucile Muller broke the leg of the steer she roped, threw and tied in 34.5 seconds, setting a record for this race so far. The steer was afterward killed. Another one crashed into a post and killed itself while a third burst through the heavy wire fence and fell dead near the corral.

The best test time to Lucille was from Estevan Clemente, of Mexico, 2:20. Tom Powder Pace, a Stony Lake, Linky Jim, won the mile race for Indians to a fine contest.

George Yeager claimed the day was his lucky day, and got the bad end of the deal. He was rolled up on both his first mount in the buck jumping and on the second another horse was given Ant Rader, which threw him in a very few seconds and dragged him half around the big arena, when his long spur caught in the stirrup strap.

WAREHOUSE RECEIPTS DISCLOSED.

Washington, Aug. 12.—Discussion of the administration currency bill at the domestic house, current today centered about the proposed amendments to make warrants for the issuance of circulating treasury notes. Representatives Nye of Kansas, Bussell of South Carolina and others were ready to offer their proposed amendments.

DEAD IN HOTEL FIRE.

Eachan, W. Va., Aug. 11.—One man whose name has not been learned, lost his life when the Alcoa hotel, located three miles from here, was destroyed by fire early this morning. One hundred guests for their lives all making their escape with the one exception. The blaze started from an unknown cause in a closet of the hotel.

scarcely known in Alberta a few years ago, there are 10 millions entered for the year. In the thoroughbred there are eight stallions entered, and in the Standard breeds there are seven. These figures will furnish some idea of the number of entries in other classes.

The entries in the dog show will well surpass all previous records this year, while in the poultry and pet stock departments the increase will be about 35 per cent. as compared with last year. The prize list of the dog show has been increased over last year to the extent of $100.

Practically all the exhibits were in their proper places yesterday afternoon. Some difficulty was experienced in finding accommodation for all the cattle, and temporary disposal was made of the surplus yesterday afternoon by utilizing the arena of the new stock pavilion until permanent quarters could be secured.

Partial contents of Webster's New Illustrated Dictionary

Based upon Noah Webster's Dictionary, revised and brought UP TO DATE in accordance with the most eminent English and American authorities on spelling, pronunciation and definition, and especially designed to meet the popular demand for a CONVENIENT, complete and RELIABLE Dictionary.

It contains all the words of the English language that are not peculiarly appropriate to a Dictionary of technical terms; it gives the spelling and pronunciation of Plurals, and indicates the use of capital and small letters in writing every word in the vocabulary; it gives the Past Tense and the Particles of all verbs not regularly formed by the addition of -d, -ed, and -ing; the Pronunciation of each word is plainly indicated by phonetic spelling; the Definitions, comprehensive, yet concise, are accurate and reliable.

Preceding the Dictionary proper will be found a treatise on ABBREVIATIONS of the Parts of Speech and their grammatical signification. Also a discourse on the Origin, Composition and Derivation of the English Language.

The ANALYSIS of the "Principles of Grammar" will fill a long-felt want in promoting the correctness of speech, both spoken and written.

Under the head of "SIMPLIFIED SPELLING" will be found the rules as adopted by the SIMPLIFIED SPELLING BOARD, and giving a complete list of 300 words spelled in two ways, of which the Board says, "Choose the simpler spelling."

Finally is given a complete KEY TO PRONUNCIATION.

Surprising results are obtained in looking up the Spelling, Pronunciation and Definition of the Ottawa, Aug. 12.—Major Birdwhistell, the manager of the Canadian Bisley team, says that it was a good thing for Hawkins to be the King's Prize winner, that he did not come out near the top in the early stages of the competition, as the excitement entailed by holding a leading position is too weakening.

According to the major Hawkins' position at the last stage seventh was the best.

Larry Chappelle, of the Milwaukee club, brightest star in the American association, has gone to Connskey's native Sox.

Chappelle cost the Sox $18,000, the highest price ever paid for a fielder.

Leaving the Sox with a bang, Chappelle was about 356, Chappelle was one of the best players in the league, his first major league game under conditions that might shake the nerve of any youngster.

He was made lead-off man, because of his hitting and sprinting ability.

Chappelle didn't get a hit in his first big league game, but he proved every body a first time player.

The first time up he picked one of the best first basemen, driving it to Ruben.

Wloux Was Fouled and Baltimore Fighter Got the Decision—Coulton Has the Knockers on His Trail Again—No Question of Rivers' Gameness

New York, Aug. 19.—If the latest accounts of the recent international bantam-weight contest between Charley and Williams are correct, the little foreigner was given a pretty rough deal. Press reports say that he was "knocked out" and he fled in rout, and from that point on until the fatal sixteenth, the Frenchman was in the ascendant. The sixteenth round Williams hooked left to Leducq's body. The Frenchman ducked and the referee declared he had been hit foul. Williams blundered up his advantage with two more punches, but the referee stepped to the floor. Referee Byron informally, and without counting the rounds, declared the rules declared Williams the winner.

Ledoux Cuts a Shabby Deal. It is a shame that a visitor to our country should be given such shabby treatment as Ledoux received at Eynon's hands. We have heard of instances where American fighters have been given the worst of it in England, but this is the first time within my knowledge that a foreign boxer has not been accorded fair treatment on this side of the Atlantic.

McGarey does not take steps to prevent the possible recurrence of such an official break in the future, but he is a different type of man from what I think he is. The least he could

Downward Path—Moose Jaw Administers Beating.

Moose Jaw, Aug. 12.—Gavin's pitching and the fielding and batting of the mellers was altogether too much for the luckless Red Sox here last evening and they went down to an 8-1 defeat in a game which, through darkness had to be called at the conclusion of the eighth inning.

Nichol started well for the visitors but after his lean start in the fourth, he was back to his best, his batting boots belching fire as he worked seemed to fade and the crowd pounded his slants to all corners.

The locals played one of their best games of the season and got the best of the day, but the visitors were the ones on the top of the league at the time of their great winning streak.

Two long doubles and a triple were mixed in with seven singles and two homers to give the visitors a game program. Two players shone during the game. Stadell in left roared over to deep center in the seventh inning and robbed Smith of a home run. He pulled down one of the hottest liners won on played marvellous ball at second, and played marvellous ball at second, and got away with a steal.

But he had made these hits in four times up, and stole three bases.

Regina's only run came in the fourth.

Most of the locals' runs came after the lead-off batters had made long hits, these being followed up with opportune singles or errors on the part of the Sox fielders.

Premier Cup Pitcher Bull
Foundations for His Success on Advice Received From Sox.

Larry Cheney, premier pitcher for the Chicago Cubs, received the "tip" responsible for his major league success while a recruit with the Chicago White Sox on the spring training trip to Mexico in 1907.

That tip was advice from Catcheside to Eddie McFarland to promise the spit-balling delivery which Ed Walsh was using with such great success. Chenevix tried it, and kept on trying it while he advanced to a position where he could use it in a city series against the veterans. The club members had given him the value of the value.

But on that trip to Mexico Chenevix possessed only a fast ball. He never boasted a great curve, and what curve he had he could not "find" when he appeared in practice before Fielder Jones, White Sox manager. So Chenevix was sent back by the White Sox to Bartlesville, Okla., whence he came.

Cheney was destined to be sent back by another major league club before he finally "arrived." That was in the spring of 1910, when he contracted a fever at Hot Springs with the Cincinnati Reds, who had secured him from Indianapolis in the fall of 1909. He was returned to the Hoosiers. The fever germs lurked in his system, and Indianapolis asked waivers. Louisville refused to waive. Larry and his "spitter" won 19 and lost 11 games that season, and the Colonels were

That jinx which twice sent Cheney back to the minors threatened to operate against him on his third appearances. Secured from Louisville by the Cubs in the fall of 1911, he pitched and won his first game against Brooklyn, 5 to 0. In the eighth inning a liner from Wheat's bat broke a finger on his pitching hand.

Despite this mishap, Manager Frank Chance thought he detected signs of piloting greatness in his recruit. Chance's judgment was justified last year, when Cheney became the leading pitcher of the Cubs. He was a "Big Mo" in and out of turn and earned him the nickname of "Big Mo" borrowed from Ed. Walsh, of the White Sox, from whom he received his first pointers.

Cheney likes to work often, and claims he is not at his best unless he is given plenty of slugging. He has had no occasion to complain of being worked often enough while with the Cubs.

Lawrence Russell Cheney was born on May 2, 1886, at Belleville, Kas., a city of about 3,000 inhabitants, where his father is a building contractor. His

Larry attended the public schools playing ball on the lots, and upon entering high school became the regular catcher, for pitching was a later accomplishment. Belleville's high school team soon attracted more than local attention, but Larry was compelled to refuse outside offers for regular employment because of his father's aversion to baseball as a profession. So Larry worked with his father at the contracting business in summer and was allowed to play baseball on Saturdays. Cheney Sr. since Larry's success in the majors, is a rampant bullfinch.

But the success of the Boilevilles did not without its exelling incidents. Following a victory over Superior, Neb., the Kansans were rolled.

Upon his graduation from high school when 20 years old, Cheney was recommended to Manager Dlok Cooley of the Topeka Western league club by Ed. Heek, an old catcher who had seen him work. Cooley advised Cheney to go to Bartlesville and join him to the Bartlesville club of the Oklahoma-Kansas league until he should acquire slab experience. Through some violation of the baseball rules or technical miscue Topeka was unable to recall him, and when Cheney jumped Bartlesville and rejoined Topeka he was ordered back by the national Possessing only a fast ball at that time, Cheney was thought good enough for a trial by the Chicago White Sox, and learned the rudiments of spitball pitching as previously referred to. Returning to Bartlesville, he virtually pitched his club to the championship. He remained with Bartlesville in 1908, and was secured by Indianapolis that fall.

Cheney jumped into the American Association highlight at once by winning 19 and losing 10 games on a club which had a percentage of less than .500. In 1910 he won only 10 and lost 12, and in 1911 he finished seventh in the league race. After being released to Louisville in 1914 Larry ended the season with a record of 19 won and 14 lost, and came to the Cubs in the fall.

Now, Cub pitching staff slumping last year, Cheney became the club mainstay and finished the season with a record of 26 games won and 10 lost. This mark was surpassed by a fractional margin only by Hendrix of Pittsburgh with 27 won and nine lost.

For the season, the new club manager has a percentage around the .700 mark, and this includes the tough looking, for Larry is sent against the strong clubs.

FATE WINS

Some real-life romances are far stranger than fiction, far more daring than the dream of any novelist. Here's an example, which proves among other things that the wrong deed still carries its own punishment and that you can't dodge the finger of Fate:

Over in Rochester, N. Y., a man and woman in an automobile crashed into a railway train and were instantly killed.

They were eloping. They were married persons, leaving their lawful mates behind for the affinity excuse. Both had been warned by friends to avoid one another. The man had parted from his wife in bitter anger but a little while before his death.

The romances of real life do not always have happy endings.

PIMPLES BROKE OUT AROUND CHIN

Burst and Formed Ugly Scabs.
Burning, then Itching. Had to Go Without Shaving for Weeks.
Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Skin Perfectly Clear.

181 Close St., Toronto, Ont.—“I was troubled with facial eczema for nearly ten years. The first signs were pimples breaking out and then bursting and forming nasty ugly scabs around my chin. Very often the sensation was that of burning, then itching so that I scratched the sore. I had to go without shaving for weeks at a time. I tried many patent remedies but did not find a permanent cure. Every spring and fall the disease appeared at its worst. I sometimes got rid of it for a few months, then it notified his dad as ever.

"Just six months ago I received a sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and found great relief after a few applications. I purchased two boxes of Cuticura Ointment, and some Cuticura Soap, and I used them for a while, and my skin is perfectly clear. I can shave with pleasure." (Signed) Wm. MacLeod, May 27, 1912.

Not only are Cuticura Soap and Ointment most valuable in the treatment of eczemas and other distressing eruptions of the skin, but they are also so efficacious in so many other cases, such as pimples, blackheads, red, rough skin, itching, scaly scalp, dandruff, dry, thin and falling hair, chapped hands and shapeliness, nails, not do it so cheaply and so abundantly. For the treatment of the scalp, a box of Cuticura Ointment (50c.) are often sufficient when all else has failed. Sold by druggists and dealers throughout the world. Liberal samples of each mailed free on request.
